

REWARD

MISSING LEONA KINSEY

Last Seen: October 25, 1999

From: La Grande, Oregon

Hair: Brown

Eyes: Brown

Height: 5'2"

Weight: 110 lbs

Leona Kinsey was last seen on October 25, 1999, at her home in La Grande, Oregon. She left behind all her belongings, including her purse, cigarettes, pager, and pets. Groceries from a recent shopping trip were left out and spoiling, and coffee remained in the coffeepot.

On October 29, 1999, her light golden-brown 1980s GMC Jimmy was found in an Albertson's parking lot by a friend. The store manager did not believe it had been there overnight. The steering column was damaged, and a box of rubber gloves was found behind the seat, but there were no signs of a struggle or clues to her disappearance.

Leona is biracial (Caucasian and Native American) and of Puyallup Indian heritage. She wears eyeglasses and has brown hair and eyes. Over the years, information has surfaced linking Leona to the Minam and High Valley areas.

THERE IS CURRENTLY A REWARD FOR INFORMATION LEADING TO LEONA KINSEY'S WHEREABOUTS.
